ΘΕΜΑ 3. ΠΑΡΑΓΩΓΗ ΓΡΑΠΤΟΥ ΛΟΓΟΥ

Your teacher has asked you to read the novel 'Pride and Prejudice' by Jane Austen and make a presentation of the main characters in the novel. Decide which characters you will include in your presentation and write a short description of them (about 120-150 words) to be used in the presentation. Use the information below.

Pride & Prejudice: Main characters

Elizabeth Bennet: A clever, witty, and pretty lady of twenty. She is brave, intelligent, cheerful and likes to laugh at odd people. Her family's vulgarity often makes her uncomfortable and ashamed. She is not as beautiful as her sister Jane, but she has a certain kind of attractiveness.

Mr. Fitzwilliam Darcy: He is very handsome, with a "fine, tall person (figure), with handsome features. He is very rich, with "ten thousand a year." He is also "clever". However, everybody in Elizabeth's town soon dislike him because he is too proud and cold to be pleasing

Mr. Charles Bingley: a "good-looking, gentlemanlike" man. He is much friendlier than Mr. Darcy, and very cheerful. He makes friends everywhere he goes. He is sweet-tempered and kind.

Jane Bennet: Elizabeth's elder sister, who eventually marries Mr. Bingley.

Lydia Bennet: the youngest sister. She runs away with George Wickham, though he has no intention of marrying her. She is 15 when the novel begins.

George Wickham is an officer in the army; he is superficially charming and rapidly forms an attachment with Elizabeth Bennet. He elopes with Lydia.

Caroline Bingley: Mr. Bingley's rich but snobby sister. She tries to break up Elizabeth and Darcy, as she wants Mr. Darcy for herself.

Lady Catherine de Bourgh: Mr. Darcy's rich and snobbish aunt. She tries to stop Darcy marrying Elizabeth.
